CHRISTINE CARRIER ARTS ANNOUNCES MANAGEMENT TEAM

September 3, 2015 - New York City - Christine Carrier Arts, is pleased to announce its management team: a New York City powerhouse, consisting of Manhattan natives with connections in all sectors of business from luxury cosmetics, Fortune 500 companies and art fairs.

Marketing Director, Lisa Plotkin Kings, a native Manhattanite, brings nearly 15 years of luxury, Fortune 500 and B2B marketing and communications experience to the Christine Carrier Arts team. Lisa has a proven track record developing brand voices by creating marketing materials and plans, coordinating and executing special events and performing market research across global platforms.

Operations Manager, Dave Gonzalez, another native Manhattanite, broke onto the art fair circuit in 2012 when he worked with Platform International to build the tent for the inaugural Frieze New York Art Fair. Building on the success of that fair, he worked six more fairs that year alone; Scope New York, Miami and Switzerland, Untitled Miami, Spectrum Miami and Red Dot Miami. Since 2012, Dave has continued his relationship with international art fairs, offering his 360 degree vantage point to all participants and turning his advice into necessity. Dave's success in overseeing project management from the highest strategic level to the smallest detail of an art fair has insured that he brings in all of his projects on time and under budget.

Christine Carrier Arts is delighted to have both Lisa and Dave as integral members of our management team.
